BARNET
Tuesday afternoon there was a severe thunder-storm about four p. m. The lightning struck the barns of Thomas Stevenson at Barnet Center and burned them to the ground. The stock was gotten out of the barn all except two hogs. This is a great loss to Mr. Stevenson as the barns were full of hay and other crops. During the same storm lightning struck a valuable horse in the pasture belonging to Dr. Robert H. Hazleton and killed it. It also struck a horse belonging to Walter Johnson but though badly injured his horse was alive at last accounts.
